May 30, 2017 | 12:10-14:00 | São Paulo, SP

If you are interested in the sponsorship opportunities, please contact Carolina Cavalheiro.

Overview

The Brazil Investment Forum will serve as an opportunity to showcase how Brazil is repositioning itself as a key player in the global economy and consolidating the country as one of the main destinations for foreign direct investment.

Investors who participate in the Forum will have the possibility to engage in meetings with high-level federal and state government authorities, as well as with other business stakeholders. This will generate an open space to learn more about the most promising sectors to invest, to develop partnerships, and to obtain practical information on where and how to invest and expand operations in Brazil.

The desired outcomes of the Forum include a better knowledge for foreign investors of business opportunities arising from Brazil's macro and microeconomic reforms, not only in traditional areas but also in new promising and emerging sectors.

The Brazil-U.S. Business Council will host a luncheon with key leaders from Brazilian ministries as well as state and local government leadership, and foreign Ambassadors in attendance. The U.S. Ambassador to Brazil, Michael McKinley will represent the U.S. government during this luncheon.
