The Honorable Tom Vilsack

Dear Ambassador Kirk and Secretary Vilsack:

On behalf of a broad coalition of U.S. businesses, workers, farmers and ranchers, thank you for your efforts to engage Brazil in a dialogue that successfully averted Brazilian trade retaliation related to the WTO cotton dispute for the immediate future. We look forward to working with you to secure a final resolution of this dispute that will remove the threat of retaliation completely.

As you know, Brazilian countermeasures against U.S. exports and intellectual property rights would jeopardize tens of thousands of American jobs. U.S. companies are striving to strengthen their competitiveness and propel the U.S. economy out of recession, and the Brazilian market's vast opportunities are critical to these efforts. Brazilian retaliation could significantly damage bilateral relations and cost U.S. workers, farmers, and businesses opportunities far beyond those who sell the products on Brazil's retaliation list.

We understand that much work remains to be done to ensure that a permanent solution to the dispute is reached. The risk of harm to U.S. trade remains. We urge you to implement swiftly the measures agreed upon earlier this week and to continue engaging the Brazilian government and the U.S. Congress to find a definitive solution to the dispute.

Appreciative of your efforts, we are fully prepared to assist you as you work with Brazil to place this dispute behind us and to seize the vast potential of the U.S.-Brazil commercial relationship.

Sincerely,
